YOU KNOW the old saying, "Life is a song . . ." Somehow we think it is true of life at Randolph-Macon—not, of course, in the sense that the progression of our days is always smooth, but in that we are able to recall the whole of this college experience borne on wings of melody.

THE MELODY is one of many variations in many hearts, which still retain a common, universal theme. From the first Junior-Freshman picnic, with its fervor of Odd and Even enthusiasm, to the last little-sister serenade on a May night, Randolph-Macon sings.

STIRRING ASSEMBLY processional, vesper hymns, gay sorority pep songs, rival cheers at athletic events, and old favorites harmonized around a camp fire on the cliff—all are woven into the unforgettable medley of memory.

AND WE, "deeply rooted in a place that has meaning," are filled with a sense of gratitude—for that place and its natural beauty, for the opportunities it offers, and for the leadership, the standards and traditions that have given it a soul.

NOTHING COULD BE MORE FITTING THAN THAT A BOOK WHOSE THEME FINDS A MUSICAL EXPRESSION SHOULD BE DEDICATED TO A MAN WHOSE LIFE IS CENTERED ABOUT
THIS ART. YET IT WAS NOT MERELY A SENSE OF HIS AP-PROPRIATENESS THAT LED US TO CHOOSE FOR THIS HONOR
THE GRACIOUS PRESIDING SPIRIT OF OUR MUSICAL ACTIV-ITIES, IN WHOM ARE BLENDED FINE CREATIVE ABILITY, GEN-IAL CHARM OF PERSONALITY, AND A BOUNDLESS ENERGY.
HIS GENIUS INSPIRES AND HIS WHOLEHEARTED SERVICE ENRICHES THE LIFE OF OUR COLLEGE, AND IT IS WITH PRIDE AND GRATITUDE THAT WE DEDICATE THE HELIANTHUS
OF 1945 TO MR. HENRY HALLSTROM.

RANDOLPH MACON WOMAN'S COLLEGE
LINT-BLACK & CO. N.Y.

DR. THEODORE H. JACK
President of the College

To the Class of 1945:
Randolph Macon, your alma mater, sends you out from its beloved walls with regret at your going, with deep affection, with pride and confidence, with the greatest expectations
I think I have some idea of the treasury of memories you will carry with you, memories of work well-done, of cherished friendships, of bright and con-far days, of glorious anticipations Best her banner proudly, cherish her teachings, reflect credit on her name, and love her as your very own
And when the world will praise you name for gracious deeds and manners fine, your alma mater will proudly say: These are mine
Faithfully yours,
Theodore H. Jack

CANDID GLANCES AT THE SENIORS

Yo-Heave-Ho!

You are my sunshine.

S.D.D. for relatives.

The morning after—

I'll huff and I'll puff—

Bridge?

Hark the Herald Angels (?)

Every rose must have its thorn.

B Short West, 1941.

Well?

An onion I am.

Straight from the old country.

"And then he said—"

Tell me, honey—

Nice pose, Griff.

Party—B. Y. O. L.

If we knew then—

Left at the Post.

Make mine beer!

Don't forget to wish

Jimmy send it?

Eh?

"se, thaes, thaem, thone, thy."

The life of Riley.

'Round our glowing candle-light.

Pretty gal, Liz.

I'm President of S. G. A. too!

Goin' my way?

SKEETER McGEHEE
President of Student Government

Student Government

The Student Government Association is one of the most vital and important influences in the life of Randolph-Macon. Dr. William Waugh Smith, our founder, entrusted to Randolph-Macon girls a share of all matters pertaining to student conduct, loyalty, and honor. Each student is conscious of an individual responsibility, and our Student Government, since its inauguration in 1902, has been our most valued possession. Working with the faculty, we have been able to develop our own rules, and through them to achieve happiness and well-being in our college life.

Association

Our Honor Principle is the foundation of our school and of each individual's life. It is our purpose to foster and uphold this principle in all phases of our everyday activities, academic, social, or personal. Our principle is in the spirit of our traditions and has developed with our history. It has come from within and grown gradually, for our college was founded on the idea of trustworthiness and co-operation. Every student has contributed something to our principle, just as our principle has given a great deal to each girl. To those of the past we give our thanks and to those of the future a hearty welcome as they come to join us.

Chairman of Orientation

Orientation

The purpose of orientation is to impart the spirit of Randolph-Macon to the newest members of our community. These new girls are met upon arrival, introduced to the unfamiliar faces, taught the rules and regulations in our Student Handbook, and automatically in this friendly atmosphere find a place for themselves. Our work doesn't stop after that first introduction to college life; the training group leaders and assistants continue throughout the year to give guidance in every possible way, and consider it a privilege to help others as they themselves were helped.

Social Committee

The purpose of the Social Committee is to furnish activities for the campus and to offer the students' assistance when it is needed in entertaining service men, through the U. S. O. and other community organizations. This year began with an Introductory Dance for the freshmen; boys were invited from the University of Virginia, Virginia Military Institute, and Washington and Lee University. The Christmas Formal followed with the usual holiday gaiety, and in May there was the Pan-Hellenic Carnival with the May Queen and her attendants. It was a war year with social activities limited, and only those planned that were thought necessary.

HELIA N T H U S

With the Editor's book from years past as our road map, the Heli staff was well guided as to which steps were to be taken when. We worked hard to make the theme that was once a dream a reality, and felt a sense of real achievement as each page was finished and fitted into its place. It was a continuous task: sending proofs to the photographer, cuts to the engraver, and copy to the printer, but when the finished "Book" was born at last, we knew that it was worth the work, the worry—and the fun!

The chief concerns of the business staff in the fall were to see that the money collected for photographs got safely to the bank, that the organizations paid promptly for their pages in the book, and that a suitable budget, which would satisfy the editor, the faculty adviser, and the business manager simultaneously, was proposed. The advertising staff did yeoman service in scouring the town for ads in the fall, and especially in collecting the money in the spring. When all the bills were paid, in May, our reports turned in to Student Government, and all the beautiful Books distributed or mailed to the students, we reluctantly turned over our jobs to our successors, feeling confidence in them, but also being sure that they could never have more fun and profit from their work than we had.

THE SUN DIAL

Wednesday night . . . for many years that term will be synonymous with "putting the Sun Dial to bed." The routine kept on going: Monday nights make out the dummy, Tuesday night write heads, Wednesday night proof-read and make the final dummy, Thursday do the final proof-reading, Friday make out the news for next week, and so on all through the year. But somehow it was never monotonous, and we always managed to have fun while we worked. Our eternal gratitude goes to Mrs. Elliot, who always kept us posted on the latest news, to Dr. French, who really should have gone into the publicity business, to the Navy Department, who kept us supplied with space-filling WAVE propaganda (very handy for last-minute blank spaces), and to those students who read every word of the Sun Dial, even to the editorials!

How could the Business Staff forget the many new friends we made while working together over plans to help the Sun Dial have another prosperous year! First came the quest for ads, and then the circulation staff worked zealously each week. Every member of the staff has done her part and loved it, and now we can look back over a year full of pleasant memories, and extend best wishes to next year's gang.

THE OLD MAID

When is the Old Maid coming out? October, December, February, April, May, the issues rolled out; behind each one was the work of T. O. M.'s staff. We'll always remember deadline nights in the study . . . howling at the Burglar's jokes—and then censoring them all . . . the Spook Issue and Wood's cover 'pook afraid of his shadow . . . Jo Jo's sentence poetry for Lu's ads . . . hunting something—anything—to be "Under the Bed" . . . the laughs we had thinking up new captions for old cartoon cuts . . . the Bachelor Contest and our he-man contest . . . the May Court take-offs . . . Mr. Bell's cheerful assistance and Put's bankbook . . . Peggy's fashion pages and Watson's circulation . . . the grand work of all the Kittens and Miss Wiggin's troubles. Yes, we'll always remember the work, the fun, the tears and the joy that went into the Old Maid—God bless 'er!

The Business Staff has spent the year collecting—collecting advertisements, collecting subscriptions, collecting money, and—collecting bills. We now collect our wits and put the Old Maid to rest for the summer in preparation for another humorous and successful year. To know her is to love her, so Long May She Live!

"Youall, I know it's only a short time off but the deadline is . . ." and the staff goes into action. Features, short stories, book reviews—"we've got to have another poem for that opening page"—and suddenly from the bare white pages of the dummy our magazine takes form. That last-minute search in the fall for a one-page filler, overflowing copy at Christmas, despairing looks at bare branches as we planned the spring cover, the penetrating "Jonathan Morton" and McCarty's beautiful "Discovery," Melville with her candle out for Santa—these are favorites among our memories, memories that, recalling the worry, the work, the hurry, and the fun, bring a smile to our faces at the words The Tattler.

BUSINESS STAFF

With the resignation of Manette Stone as business manager early in the year, Ginny Caffee took over the staff, and the advertising crew went to work. Betsy Fisher enlarged our subscribers' list, and Anne Smoot was circulating the "mag" as soon as the first issue came off the press. Sending out bills, writing checks, and balancing the budget was Ginny's job, and she performed it in a really business-like way. Through her able guidance, we kept the pace, and elected a new staff at the end of the year with the hope that they could have as much fun getting out The Tattler as we did.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. began its year with the ten sophomore Ask Me's meeting the trains. During Orientation Week we gave the Ministers' Tea; Fay and Berta made the Freshman "Y" club a big success. Our fall speaker was Chaplain Robert Metters of Columbia Midshipmen's School, then in January came the Recreation Institute. Cabinet has enjoyed joint meetings with other colleges, and our chapel and music room are fast becoming realities. Presidents' School and summer conferences are our next goal in the life of the Y. W. C. A.

Glee Club

After practice and work combined with fun, the Glee Club began its season with a Thanksgiving program of praise. The Christmas performance for the Woman's Club and the annual concert for the school were next on our calendar. Then came Founders' Day, and Vesper services in Presser. The club supplied a background of Gregorian chants for "Murder in the Cathedral," produced under the direction of Ross, Struppa, and Hallstrom. The spring concert, a joint one with the Men's Glee Club of the University of Virginia, brought to a close our tuneful and enjoyable year.

International Relations Club

While the world focused its attention on international happenings, in our meetings we analyzed these events and attempted to foresee peace problems. The Philippine invasion, the Dumbarton Oaks Plan, a report of the Yalta Conference were highlights of some discussions. Jane Maxwell kept the school informed on daily changes by the war map in Main Hall; Esther Foote Ellis attended a conference which presented student interest in sending observers to the San Francisco Conference. This year we initiated our own club room with its library, which includes books and monthly pamphlets sent by the Carnegie Endowment Fund, and we hope the I. R. C. room may become a meeting place for all interested in reading and discussing international affairs.

Debate Council

Debating is the only inter-collegiate activity in which Randolph-Macon students may participate. It will be a long time before we forget the excitement of formulating our schedule for the year with plans to meet such teams as Johns Hopkins University and the University of Virginia. Then came the first debate, and we felt the thrill of a close argument. At mid-term we welcomed a group of enthusiastic freshmen, and closed the season with a list of hard-fought debates in which we endeavored to carry on the high reputation of the Randolph-Macon debate teams.

Sock And Buskin

Do you remember when the bed legs fell off and Zu's banana was rotten—the famous flying set with a four minute scene shift—the five costumes per member of the cast of thirty-one—posies for all from the Boss, Mrs. Ross—Julie as Stage Manager—the famous prompt-script and production schedule? That was "Stage Door," our fall production. The Three Musketeers—Ross, Doss, and Struppa—began innumerable working hours when "Murder in the Cathedral" was born, long before Christmas. Everyone pitched in with Crawford and Nettleton as heads of the Needle Crew and Touch as Chief Electrician. Rigidly following the famous Ross schedule, Sock and Buskin, in collaboration with the Dance Group, turned out another success full of hard work and fun for all.

Latin Club

For three years we looked forward to being members. It has been worth the waiting. The Latin Club, one of the oldest clubs on campus, has given us stimulating entertainment and ideas we will always carry with us. We opened our year by meeting the "tenderest of Roman poets," Catullus, and later hours were spent with the inspiring, immortal Virgil. We are proud that we have been the ones to carry on the classical tradition on our campus, and we know that the words "Latin Club" will ever bring to our minds long and fascinating evenings spent in going deeper into our favorite subject with our teacher and friend, Dr. Lipscomb.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club was organized this year in response to student demand for additional opportunities to express their interest in the Castilian language. With the senior majors as an enthusiastic nucleus, and with the help and guidance of Mrs. Smith and other members of the Department of Romance languages, the club soon got under way. Especially enjoyable was our Christmas meeting, when we sang Noche de Paz and other Christmas carols, read the Nativity Story from a Spanish Bible, and joined in the Mexican fiesta custom of breaking a gaily-decorated piñata filled with dulces. As a part of its activities, the Spanish Club has also sponsored a mesa espanola in East Hall dining room where the menus are in Spanish, and the conversation, also in Spanish, is animated. We have enjoyed the fun and opportunity of using our Castilian outside the classroom.

Der Deutsche Verein

The purpose of the German Club is to develop in its members a greater interest in the language, the music, the art, and the literature of the German people, as well as in their life and customs. To further this purpose, a Christmas play is given; meetings are devoted to records, folk songs and dances, games and parties in the Pines—all directed toward a finer appreciation of the German culture.

The Order of Greyfel's purpose is to increase the interest in riding on the Randolph-Macon campus, to provide wholesome and enjoyable recreation, and to foster the spirit of horsemanship. We began this year by sponsoring the Thanksgiving Horse Show; between this event and the May Day Horse Show were many functions, including the banquets after the shows, combination riding and eating parties, and weekly meetings. We've tried to make this a year in which every member of the student body, faculty, and staff could find a place in the war effort on our campus. The Publicity Committee, with the ceaseless cooperation of the Sun Dial, kept us informed on what we could do. In the workroom tongues and needles flew to finish sewing and knitting. Bandages were rolled. Speakers talked of South America, China, France, and Russia. We gave our blood when members of the student body and faculty took a day off from classes to go to Lovington. Our dollars were just as willingly given, and we went well over our goal of $4,500 to help American prisoners of war, to clothe children in liberated Europe, to support our newly opened chateau for French children, to aid Chinese relief, and to support our own activities here on campus. Included in the fund was our Red Cross contribution, which was later increased by the money made from the sale of tickets to the James Melton concert. We sold stamps and bonds in our new booth with outstanding success, the sophomores being responsible for a large part with their war stamp tickets to their class play. We sent Christmas boxes overseas to a paratrooper rest home, and later, with the Y, we filled more boxes for soldiers at Camp Pickett. For those that were interested there were classes in typing and shorthand, arts and crafts, child welfare, home nursing, nutrition and canteen. It has been a full year, a year of hard and truly satisfying work.

Miss Elizabeth J. Behrendt
Associate Editor
The Helianthus
Box 57
Lynchburg, Virginia

Dear Miss Behrendt:

Judge Campbell-Macdonald's College Beauty Contest was not only a great pleasure, but was one of the most difficult tasks of this nature ever presented to me. They are perhaps the best looking group of young American women that I have seen in twenty-five years of judging beauty contests. Indeed, I felt quite like Paris judging the dispute between her, Aphrodite and Athena, except that I needed thirteen golden apples.

In my dilemma I called in my associate producer, assistant director and other executives, and after considerable discussion we agreed upon the selections that I enclose.

With my sincere congratulations and best wishes to all of the contestants.

Sincerely,

Cecil B. de Mille

March 23, 24, 1945

You've all heard of days, the best of days,
But if you'll gather close I'll tell
Of a day that was best, in the best of ways—
One that Odds will remember well.

'Twas the thirteenth of April in forty-five,
But it held the laughter and din
Of Christmas and Easter, the Fourth of July
In the house of Holiday Inn.

Yes, Holiday Inn, the playhouse of Odds,
On a campus shining and bright,
Where the fun of a year of happy events
Was packed in a day and night.

Odd Day

By JOYCE GILLUM

Main Hall was seen all glistening and green,
The best of Christmas seasons,
Where Odd stockings hung full of candy and toys,
And limp were those of the Evens.

And West was Easter where, clutching a tail,
A bunny looked mighty pleased.
New was a witch-riden Hallowe'en,
The home of Mephistopheles.

But Webb was a Valentine torn in two,
Each Freshman a broken heart.
Uncle Sam in East of the Fourth of July
Begged Evens to do their part.

And all day long Odd colors flew
In truly festive array.
The Arch of Carnations, the evening feast
Were highlights of this Odd Day.

And later that night the candles shone
As we sang of Odd Class lore,
A toast to laughter and love and fun
And our colors forever more.

The Nineteen Forty-Five Helianthus

of Randolph-Macon Woman's College

Even Day

By HERMENA WAIT AND LOIS MITCHELL

*We unfurled our banner in the year '45
To wave o'er an Even Day that really was jive.
No place on the campus was left unaware
That one more great Even Day surely was there.*

*All Evens were in Paradise for one glorious day;
The Odds were in Paradise Lost, shall we say?
The left side of Main was the best place to dwell,
But the opposite side was a veritable hell.*

*The Juniors were "Back home for keeps" in Fraternity Row.
Not one of these girls was lacking
a beau.
But the data the Evens all knew the best
Was the number of Old Maids living in West.*

*And in New behind bars lived a majority greater
Of girls who began the phrase
"Who'd wanta date 'er?"
However, the Evens living in Webb
Were more party-girlish than the flightiest deb.*

*Dear Bones and Buttons, ever loyal and true,
Stood guarding our Post that was painted anew.
The Evens marched into chapel en masse.
"All Hail March Fourteenth" was the mark of their class.*

*"Oh, the life of a fireman!" the Juniors all sang,
When the engine drove in with its bell all a-clang.
"There's no greater thrill," the Evens each said,
"Than to ride on top of the wagon so red."*

*But the day was not over, for when sun had set,
The Evens were toasted in royal banquet.
And later that night, as we praised
Even lore,
Our mascots in spirit returned as before.*

*Too soon had our Even Day come to a close,
But our Even Spirit will live on in those Who, as we all said our final good nights,
Could see the bright radiance of our Even Lights.*

Creating YEAR BOOKS
of Distinction

It takes more than "good printing" to create outstanding Year Books.

The J. P. Bell Company specializes in Year Books. First, by maintaining a Department of trained and experienced personnel that devotes its entire time to the planning and servicing of Year Books. Secondly, by maintaining a plant equipped with the most modern machinery, manned by skilled, efficient workmen.

There is a certain mark of Distinction on all J. P. Bell publications.
